

ABSTRACT

This book tries to assess the adequacy of the Arabic grammatical model as founded by SIBAWAYH, It is based on a theoretical and scientific viewpoint influenced by HJELMSLEV's conception.

It tries to scrutinize the Arabic grammatical tradition as well as the contemporary criticism triggered by this tradition through the analysis of the sentence, the parts of speech and their functions down to the minimal meaningful units (i.e. the morphemes).

Names and key words:

Linguistics - de Saussure - Trubetzkoy - Hjelmslev - Glossematics - Arabic Grammar - the sentence - Parts of speech - grammatical functions - Morphemes - Ibrahim Mustapha - Ibrahim Anis - Mahdi Makhzoumi - Tammam Hassan.